

Below is a general project timeline depicting the Three Phases of the Web Design process with Solocin Media.

PHASE ONE:

In the First Phase, we will go over your goals for the website. Solocin Media will then analyze the scope of the website and send a quote reflecting the amount of work needed. Once the quote is approved and contract signed, a 25% deposit will be collected and Pre-Website To Do's will be sent. Then, on to Phase 2.

PHASE TWO:

Once the Pre-Website To Do's have been completed, the clock starts! We will begin developing the framework of the website as well as the initial design while the Client edits their created content. After all pages have been built out, the content will be inserted. Once the Client is fully satisfied and happy with the direction of the website (during the Mid Project Meeting), we can move on to Phase 3.

PHASE THREE:

In the Final Phase, we will finish building out the website. After optimizing the website for Mobile & SEO, we will review the website together. Upon approval, the website will be launched and the final invoice sent.
